Metrobus Routes To Change June 26

June 14, 1983 More than 42 years ago

The Washington Metropolitan Area Transit Authority has announced that it will adjust service on many Virginia Metrobus routes beginning June 26. According to Metro's announcement, made last week, the adjustments will in many cases provide direct connections to Metrorail's new Yellow Line at the Pentagon.

Running times will be adjusted on several routes that use the I-66 expressway to reflect the time saving that results, according to Metro. Other route adjustments are being made to correspond to changing travel patterns and ridership, the announcement said.

Following are the announced changes of individual route descriptions:

Route 1 (Wilson Boulevard Line)

The timetable for this route will be split in half, and the trips on Routes 1A, 1B, 1D, 1E, 1M, 1V and 1W will be designated as the Wilson Boulevard-Annandale Line. Routes 1C, 1F, 1X and 1Z will be designated the Wilson Boulevard-Fairfax Line. Minor adjustments will be made on travel times for many trips. New timetables will reflect the new running times.
